

NARRATIVE ESSAY SAMPLE

CUSTOM ESSAY
WRITING SERVICES.com

YOU WANT TO CHANGE THE WORLD, HOW WOULD YOU CHANGE YOURSELVES FIRST?

Those who manipulate us, this reality, manipulate us through ourselves and we create such manipulated things, manifest the reality - the world according to their will, thinking that it is ours. In everyday encounter and conversation with people, whether it's the so-called. Rich or poor, so-called. Learned or uneducated, employees - the unemployed, the conclusion of the conversation is always the same: something in this society, the world needs to be changed urgently because we cannot do it anymore. Almost all people know more or less that there is something wrong in this world. So some accuse politicians, some judiciary and police who do not enforce laws, some church spectacle, and some even meet with secret societies, bankers, etc., which is certainly true, and rarely anyone is questioning their own role in all of this, rarely who Being aware that banks, politicians, secrets of companies build these foundations of power right on their own / self, as we ourselves are their power. Those who manipulate this world, either through politics (democracy-dictatorship), legislation, army, police, religion, education, health, media, ... do not actually manipulate the world, but us through ourselves because we are politicians and those who they are in power, we are priests and those who go to church, because we are those who accept the laws and who implement them, those who send children to schools, those who do not care about their health, have already transferred this burden to the health system , those who watch TV and pay for subscription, buy and read newspapers, and, most importantly, those who are manipulated and maintained through them are manifesting reality - the world that manipulators want, not us. We are the creators of this reality uncomfortably deceived, manipulated to manifesto and maintain a world in which, according to the conversation with the same people, in fact, nobody wants to live. Simply put, those who manipulate this reality, manipulate us through us and we are manipulated by such manipulations, manifests reality - the world according to their will, thinking that it is ours. People are prone and more difficult to change in society and the world without knowing how the problem is in them, how they are the problem, and how the world today is just a reflection of ourselves. Anxiety in us becomes an uproar in the world, injustice in us becomes injustice in the world, misunderstanding, intolerance, conflict, hatred, violence in us manifests by misunderstanding, intolerance, conflict, hatred, violence in society, the world we live in peace outside of us!

You want peace, be peaceful!

You want understanding, be reasonable!

You want justice, be right!

Want freedom, happiness, love? Do not look for it, make love be happy be free, it's so simple!

It is a futile effort to compare the tendency to change in the world by combining the mirror to change the reflection in the mirror, we all know that this is impossible, but nevertheless, that is exactly what we do in our ignorance every day. The only true change is the one that happens inside us, because outward is only a mirror, a map of our inner state. The only progress is spiritual progress. Peace in the world is only a reflection of our inner peace, the state of consciousness. Let's not waste time looking for a solution, instead we remove the cause and solutions will not be needed either. Have you ever wondered why all of the previous movements, revolutions ended up just as a letter of change on the paper of historical books, and not as real changes in society? Why is every so-called revolution, the change, resulted in even greater enslavement of humanity by the very humanity itself? Many people in the tendency to change the reality in which they live call and struggle to change the system, again, not realizing how to run, maintain, maintain the system and how we are the system ourselves, and how the fight against the system is fighting against ourselves. Fighting the system by those who consume and run the system itself is equal to the fight against thought. As a struggle, by attempting to stop thoughts unconsciously, we strengthen, give power to our minds, and by fighting the system in our ignorance, we maintain and strengthen the system itself. The system as well as thoughts is impossible to defeat in its field because everything we do inside the system is maintained and strengthened by the system.

YOU WANT TO CHANGE THE WORLD, HOW WOULD YOU CHANGE YOURSELVES FIRST?

We do not support this system, we simply stop consuming it and, therefore, to feed it! The struggle against the system is the struggle against ourselves, it is the struggle of one political option against the other, the struggle of one religion against the other, one soldier against the other, while we are both ourselves and one and the other, the parties are not there, the foreign illusion because on every side are people, MI. Wake up people, the fight is exactly what keeps this world of violence real, for thousands of years. You want peace be peace! Fighting is an illusion against illusion, one belief against another, awareness is needed, awakening in the truth that there is no left and right, they and we, but as we are ALL ONE. We must become aware of it, become aware that the system does not possess its own energy, power, it is already drawn from the followers, the followers, those who consume it. You must agree that the power of meat industry is certainly not based on vegetarians / vegans, but on those who consume their products. The power of the media is not based on those who do not watch television, do not listen to the radio or read newspapers, but those who spend hours each day in front of a TV with newspapers in their hands trusting in everything they have been told. The power of banks certainly does not stem from those who do not consume their services. The power of the pharmaceutical industry is certainly not based on people who take care of their own health in their own hands. The power of political parties, the parliamentary majority, is based on those who support them, approving their actions, and not those who are aware that politicians, governments have just extended the hand of the shadow rulers, a tool for enslaving people. We are all the power of the rulers of the shadow, as long as we sleep, until we know who we are, we live in illusion and help maintain the illusion, the illusion of duality, otherness, struggle, survival, intolerance and violence. As the scientist and philosopher Buckminster Fuller said: "You will never change things by fighting against the existing reality. To change something, create a new model that will make the existing model obsolete." Or, more accurately, live, be the change you want to see in the world as Mahatma Gandhi said. Being a change, for example, is one of the most powerful weapons of transforming society and the reality in which we live. So those who support, consume the system just like those who are fighting against the system through the system itself, in their ignorance, they maintain, strengthen the system. Fighting the systems and structures in power is unnecessary and impossible, it is only necessary to get conscious of it, to wake up in TRUTH, because it is impossible to manipulate an awakened person. Everything is twisted all awry, instead of seeking authority in truth we are seeking the "truth" of the authority.

The best and only real recipe for change would be: change yourself!

Every fight against evil is a vain struggle, it's like combing the hair of our own reflection in the mirror and frustrating because we still have a messy hairdo! And the fight against war is a battle, just like war! As quantum physics confirms: the observer creates reality around itself, if there is no observer, there is not even its reality. Take a look at this interesting video, which represents the theories of quantum physics from the spiritual angle.

Tobias Lars - Ho oponopono

